ALL SET FOR ST PATRICK'S DAY

Vanessa Bradbury

THE young and old will be getting into the green spirit of the Irish on St Patrick's Day on Monday.

It is the perfect opportunity for children to learn that the Irish were among the first Europeans to settle in Australia and also celebrate the life of patron saint St Patrick's who died on March 17.

At Gracelands Early Education Centre in Kellyville, it is tradition for its carers and children to dress up in

Pubs go full Irish in big day

Amelia Russo gets into the St Patrick's Day spirit.

THE luck of the Irish will be celebrated on St Patrick's Day on Monday at several local watering holes.

The Mean Fiddler will be hosting a weekend of festivities with free entertainment on Sunday in the Woolshed featuring U2 tribute show Achtung Baby and resident DJs.

On Monday, it will be hosting an Irish charity breakfast from 7am. Tickets are $59 with $10 going towards The Royal Institute for Deaf and Blind Children.

There will also be Irish dancers, comedians, live music and Guinness giveaways throughout the day.

fun green-themed outfits. The day is usually spent doing green Irish-themed craft activities and cooking up some green cookies.

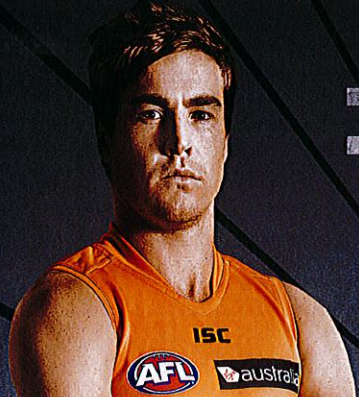

Gracelands supervisor Megan Harbour said the owner Elizabeth Russo had a strong Irish heritage and it was always celebrated in her family.

"On the day we will have some Irish dancers, being lead by our own dancer and carer Shannon Heron, come and pay us a visit," she said.

"Plus all the halls and walls will be decked out in green to keep in with the theme for the day."
